Unlike KCN6 or “coffee” , HGM6 has no quality check on the actual nuggets, bars or copper ingots or how it will be settled whether physical or cash. But as swing or position trader in the futures we’re only concerned at the current action of the future contract’s market price, so somehow it’s traded like an equity, only more predictable.

SWAG on Copper

Robots will advise a “sell”, I will go for accumulate as blue line SMA(20) and red line EMA(13) crosses are imminent which will cause to bring the price of copper up with Parabolic SAR confirming the reversal of trend. Suggested price entries from 211.00 – 209.00 setting the stop loss at 205.00
